

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

2020 Range Science Education Council

OUTSTANDING UNDERGRADUATE TEACHING AWARD and EARLY CAREER UNDERGRADUATE TEACHING AWARD

Do you know someone who teaches undergraduate Range Science courses that is a truly excellent teacher? Is there a university Range teacher who inspired you to become a Range Science professional? If so, please consider nominating that person for one of the Range Science Education Council's teaching awards. This is a wonderful way to recognize and honor someone who has made a difference in your professional career!

The 2020 Range Science Education Council (RSEC) Teaching Awards will be presented at the 2020 SRM Meeting in Denver, CO.

- The Outstanding Undergraduate Teaching Award recognizes excellence in teaching and advising that has extended over the course of many years.
- The Early Career Undergraduate Teaching Award recognizes excellence in teaching and advising Range Management students by faculty/instructors in the early stages of their teaching careers (less than 10 years of experience).

Recipients will receive a monetary award from the Range Science Education Council and recognition by both the RSEC and SRM.

A copy of the guidelines and procedures for nominating a teacher for each of the RSEC-SRM Teaching Awards plus a copy of the Nomination Form can be obtained by contacting Paul Meiman, RSEC Awards Committee Chair (pmeiman@unr.edu), or found on the RSEC website: <http://rangesec.org/>.

An electronic copy (pdf files emailed or on CD) of all materials must reach the chair of the RSEC Awards Committee by November 1, 2019:
